

Acetylene Gas.

Scientific people say that if a piece of the new material called calcium carbide as large as a pea, is dropped into a tumbler of water, it will give off as it dissolves bubbles of an illuminating gas that can be repeatedly lighted by holding a match over the water. This, it is said, is the illuminating gas of the future. It can be manufactured for 25 cents per 1,000 feet. The new illuminant is called acetylene gas. Its lighting powers is said to be twelve times as great as coal gas. If all this is true, speed the day when acetylene gas will be substituted for coal gas. It is so easily obtained that an ingenious inventor could very easily devise apparatus whereby every farm house could be lighted by acetylene vapor.

Reformers Arrested.

San Francisco, June 4.—I. J. Truman, President of the Civic Federation, and Rev. Dr. R. R. Dile, G. E. Faden and D. G. Denter, also of the Federation, were arrested to-day and charged with criminal libel. The accused have been making war on Dr. Mare Livingston, a candidate for Health Officer, and caused to be published and forwarded to Governor Budd charges reflecting on Livingston's character as Coroner. Dr. Livingston, who says he will push the prosecution, states that the accused have been made the tools of other candidates for the office.

Salt Lake is delighted over the tapping of another flow of natural gas at a depth of 956 feet. It shows a pressure of 335 pounds to the square inch. This last strike is the largest yet made in the seven wells now sunk, and assures an ample supply for nearly all purposes needed in the city.

Thus chastely and beautifully does the Madera Mercury felicitate a recently married young couple of that town: "They have the best wishes of all in this community that their married life may be a happy one and pan out well."

Prof. Woods' entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed last evening by a delighted audience. His violin tones are as sweet as Kentucky honey.

The hot wave in the East is something unusual for this time of year. Five people were prostrated from heat in Chicago Tuesday.

Pickler was suspended from the Mint by Supt. Adams within an hour after the bullion was found in his yard.

WM. PICKLER ARRESTED.

HE FURNISHES $1,000 BONDS FOR APPEARANCE TUESDAY.

Some Sensational Fake Dispatches Sent East.

Yesterday Wm. Pickler was arrested on a U. S. warrant charged with the theft of bullion from the U. S. Mint valued at $250.

His bail was fixed at $1,000 and John Rosser, Otto Schulz and E. Burlington went on the bond. After the bond was filed, U. S. Attorney Jones and Detective Grant called on Judge Hawthorne and demanded the bullion which was there under seal. Hawthorne declined to give it up without legal advice, and Jones demanded it as a representative of the United States Government.

The Judge still refused until Pickler said he had no objections. It was then turned over to the Government taken to the Government building and placed in the U. S. Marshal's safe. In a few moments Attorney Coffin appeared on the scene, and when he found that the bullion was in the custody of the U. S. officials, he was in a very unhappy frame of mind, and made some profane protests, which were of no avail.

Pickler was notified to appear for preliminary examination on Tuesday.

FLO FAILS TO APPEAR.

The case was then called in Hawthorne's Court where Flo Stewart charged Pickler with threats against her life. She failed to appear and the case was dismissed on motion of the District Attorney.

FAKE DISPATCHES.

It transpired during the day that dispatches had been yesterday morning published in the New York and Washington papers to the effect that $82,000 worth of gold bullion had been found in Pickler's back yard. The appearance of these dispatches in the Washington papers excited the Mint officials at Washington, and they wired back to know if the dispatches were correct. Why such dispatches should be sent all over the East and not to the Coast papers is one of these enigmas that is causing considerable discussion in this city.

MARRIED.

CALVIN-MARTIN—In Carson City, Nevada June 4, 1895, at the residence of the bride's mother, Charles W. Calvin and Miss Helen V. Martin, both of this city, Rev. F. L. Nash officiating. No cards.

Only relatives and a very few intimate friends of the interested parties were present.

The bride was attired in a gown of white Indian silk made in a simple fashion, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley; tan shoes and tan gloves completed a very becoming costume. Miss Charlotte Schulz was bridesmaid and was gowned in a handsome silver grey poplin and carried a bouquet of superb pink roses. C. E. Peters officiated as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin will reside in their cosy cottage in the eastern part of town.

Humphrey-Thorn.

Yesterday afternoon C. A. Humphrey was married to Miss Ella Thorne at the Thorne ranch. Only the friends of the family were invited. Miss Lillian Kaiser of Fresno, acted as bridesmaid and the brother of the bride acted as best man. The APPEAL acknowledges the usual bridal remembrances.

The News wishes to know why the U. S. Government don't arrest Pickler. They have arrested him and fixed his bonds at four times the amount of the value of the property the complaint charges him with stealing. Now when Jones was arrested and charged with a shortage of $75,000, his bonds were fixed at one third the amount he was charged with stealing. He was not arrested for some time after the shortage was discovered, whereas Pickler was arrested the next day on a complaint sworn out the same day the bullion was found. Yet the News is crying for more speed. These cases are going on fast enough it would seem.

The New York Mail and Express tells the following story on Colonel Brown, editor of the Charleston News, and the cocktail: It is said that while the genial Colonel was a State Senator it was observed by some of his friends at the hotel that two cocktails were sent to his room every morning. "Why two, Colonel?" they at length ventured to ask him. "Well, it's here," the Colonel replied: "I drink a cocktail in the morning and it makes me feel like another man. Then I treat the other man."

The Carson public will be given a literary as well as an elocutionary treat by Mr. Wentworth, at Guild Hall, Episcopal Church, Friday night. Admission, 50 cents.

C. E. BRAY, Chairman,
Attest:—
GEORGE A. TYRRELL, Clerk,
C. W. CALVIN, Deputy.

The triumph of Wall and Lombard streets in our Presidential campaign in 1896, means the complete overthrow of the Government for the people in these United States, and the setting up of a money oligarchy that nothing short of revolution could overthrow. Are you prepared for so costly a mistake as the triumph of gold bugism in '96? If not, get to work immediately to defeat the most infamous conspiracy in ancient or modern times.—Civic Record.
